

Volume 2. Issue 26.

Fear of Sin

In the Beit Ha'Mikdash there were two treasuries - one was titled 'The Treasury of the Secret Ones', for those who feared sin would donate to it secretly and the poor, sons of good ones, would finance themselves from it secretly. The other [treasury], titled 'The Vessel Treasury', was for those donating vessels [to the Beit Ha'Mikdash] and one donating to it would cast his vessel into it. Every thirty days the treasurers would open up this treasury and any vessel found that could be used in the upkeep of the Mikdash would be kept and the rest of the vessels would be sold; their monetary value being given over to the Treasury for the Upkeep of the Mikdash. (Shekalim 5:6)

A question which arises from this Mishnah is the use of the term "yir'ei chet" (those fearful of sin) to describe the donors to the lishchat chasha'im ('The Treasury of the Secret Ones'). In this context, there is seemingly no sin to be weary of, rather a very positive mitzvah to be fulfilled and thus the term "yir'ei chet" seems out of place. What relevance does the quality of being a yir'ei chet have to do with the scenario at hand - the donation of tzedaka in secret?

One better versed than me in literature from the Tanaic period may be able to simply respond to this question by explaining that the term "yir'ei chet" is a common phraseology used to describe a righteous person and should not be scrutinized if its literal meaning does not fit into the given context. Nonetheless, currently lacking such knowledge I will permit myself to present other options in explanation of term "yir'ei chet" in our Mishnah.

It is possible that the term "yir'ei chet" is used to reveal important facts regarding the intersection of mitzvot and aveirot (sins) as understood by the donors to the lishchat chasha'im. It may be that these donors were unwilling to donate tzedaka in more public circumstances due to the possibility of infringing upon a number of aveirot in the process.

One such aveira that these yir'ei chet may have feared could have been the onset of pride or arrogance. The guidance of Chazal in Avot (4:4) to "be exceedingly humble in spirit" may have created an aversion within them to the idea of allowing themselves to enjoy the inflated sense of personal goodness that accompanies public knowledge of one's generosity. In their minds, to have given tzedaka in public may have been a case of "yatzah scharo behefsedo" (his gain was offset by his loss) due to the consequent creation of self-pride. Furthermore, the yir'ei chet may have realised that their kind acts of donation may soon turn into acts of self-aggrandisement due to the esteem gained from public awareness of them. This careful guarding to prevent the onset of arrogance may have led these donors to limit their donation to the lishchat chasha'im and to earn the title of yir'ei chet for doing so.

A further reason these individuals may have decided to give tzedaka in secret may have been sensitivity to others' reactions to public donation. It may have been that these people did not wish others to witness their giving of tzedaka for fear of subsequent resentment towards them. It is well known that halachah forbids one to compliment a person in the presence of his enemies (see Kitzur Shulchan Aruch 30:4). The logic behind this is that such actions will only lead to further hostility towards the person under discussion from the listeners. So too here, it may have been an unwillingness to inadvertently confront onlookers who may not have donated tzedaka that drove the yir'ei chet to conceal their giving. Such actions would have been a fulfillment of Rebbi Channinah ben Dosa's statement in Avot (3:13) that "If the spirit of one's fellows is pleased with him, the spirit of the Omnipresent is pleased with him" (Artscroll translation).

An incident that I witnessed demonstrated this sensitivity. On a Friday afternoon about three months ago, one of the Rabbis at Yeshivat Har Etzion slipped over and was taken to hospital. He managed to return home before Shabbat and myself and some other boys had the privilege of having a kiddush with him on Shabbos day (which had been planned before the incident). I noticed that this Rabbi's neighbour, who is also a Rabbi in the yeshiva stepped in the doorway to this Rabbi's house, presumably with the intention of inquiring as to his well-being. Upon seeing the guests sitting around the Rabbi's table, the visiting Rabbi hastily left without people really noticing. My understanding was that this Rabbi did not want to turn his Bikur Cholim into a public show of his care for a friend and colleague.

Thus it seems that while appearing out of place, the term yir'ei chet is in fact correct in our Mishnah. Furthermore, this particular description of the virtuous secret donors serves to teach about the nexus between mitzvah and aveira and the great respect that Chazal thus afforded those with the correct sensitivity to this.

Noam Greenberger

Revision Questions

שקלים ד': ו' - ו': ו' ד'

- What was done with items that were ‘sanctified’ and given to the Beit Mikdash funds and were also suitable for use in the ketoret? (Include both opinions) (ד': ו')
- What was done with items that were ‘sanctified’ and given to the Beit Mikdash funds and were also suitable for use in the korbanot? (Include both opinions) (ו': ו')
- How does R' Pappas reconcile the two opinions referred to in the previous question. (ד': ו')
- What was done with wine and oil that were ‘sanctified’ and given to the Beit Mikdash funds? (ח': ו')
- How was the Beit Ha'Mikdash's supplier agreements managed in the event of market value fluctuations? (ט': ו')
- When were the suppliers paid and why? (ט': ו')
- By what other name was Mordechai referred to and why? (ה': א')
- Which family were experts in preparing the ketoret? (ה': א')
- How many treasurers (gizbarin) were there in charge of the Beit Ha'Mikdash's funds? (ה': ב')
- How many financial controllers (amarkalin) were there overseeing the Beit Ha'Mikdash's funds? (ה': ב')
- In general what is the minimum number of people that should be placed in charge of public funds? (ה': ב')
- How many chotamot were there and what were they used for? (ה': ג')
- Explain how one would purchase the nechasim required for their korban? (ה': ד')
- What would happen if one lost his chotam? (ה': ה')
- What did they do to try and combat chotam fraud? (ה': ה')
- What was the lishchat chasha'im used for? (ה': ו')
- What was the lishchat keilim use for and how often was it cleared? (ה': ו')
- What three things were numbered thirteen in the Beit Ha'Mikdash? (ה': א')
- How did they interpret the strange death of a kohen that was recounting a structural imperfection in the Beit Ha'Mikdash and what was the imperfection? (ו': ב')
- How many gates were there in the Northern, Southern, Western and Eastern faces of the Beit Ha'Mikdash? (ו': ג')
- Which gates had no names? (ו': ג')
- What were the marble and silver tables that were by the ramp of the mizba'ech used for and on which side of the ramp were they located? (ו': ד')
- What were the marble and gold tables that were inside the ulam used for and where were they located? (ו': ד')

www.mishnahyomit.com

Local Shiurim

Sunday -Thursday
Between mincha & ma'ariv
Mizrachi Shul

Friday & Shabbat
10 minutes before mincha
Mizrachi Shul

Audio Shiurim on-line!

- 613.org/mishnah.html
- www.shemayisrael.com/mishna/

www.
mishnah
yomit
.com

Next Week's Mishnayot...

Sunday	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	שבת קודש
26 th February כ"ח שבט	27 th February כ"ט שבט	28 th February ל' שבט ראש חודש	1 st March א' אדר ראש חודש	2 nd February ב' אדר	3 rd February ג' אדר	4 th February ד' אדר
Shekalim 6:5-6	Shekalim 7:1-2	Shekalim 7:3-4	Shekalim 7:5-6	Shekalim 7:8 – 8:1	Shekalim 8:2-3	Shekalim 8:4-5

